the man had some connection with a murder in the States. Information was sent to the Detective Department, and this morning Detectives La Fontaine and Campeau went to Mile End. The prisoner answered the description for George Eagan, alias Murray, who is wanted at Worcester, Mass., for attempted murder and burglary, which occurred in February last.

The only difference was that the prisoner was slightly tailer than Eagan. The detectives decided to bring the prisoner to the city. Accordingly the man was taken away in a cab. When Dorchester street was reached the prisoner suddenly jumped through the door and attempted to get away. After an exciting chase he was captured.
